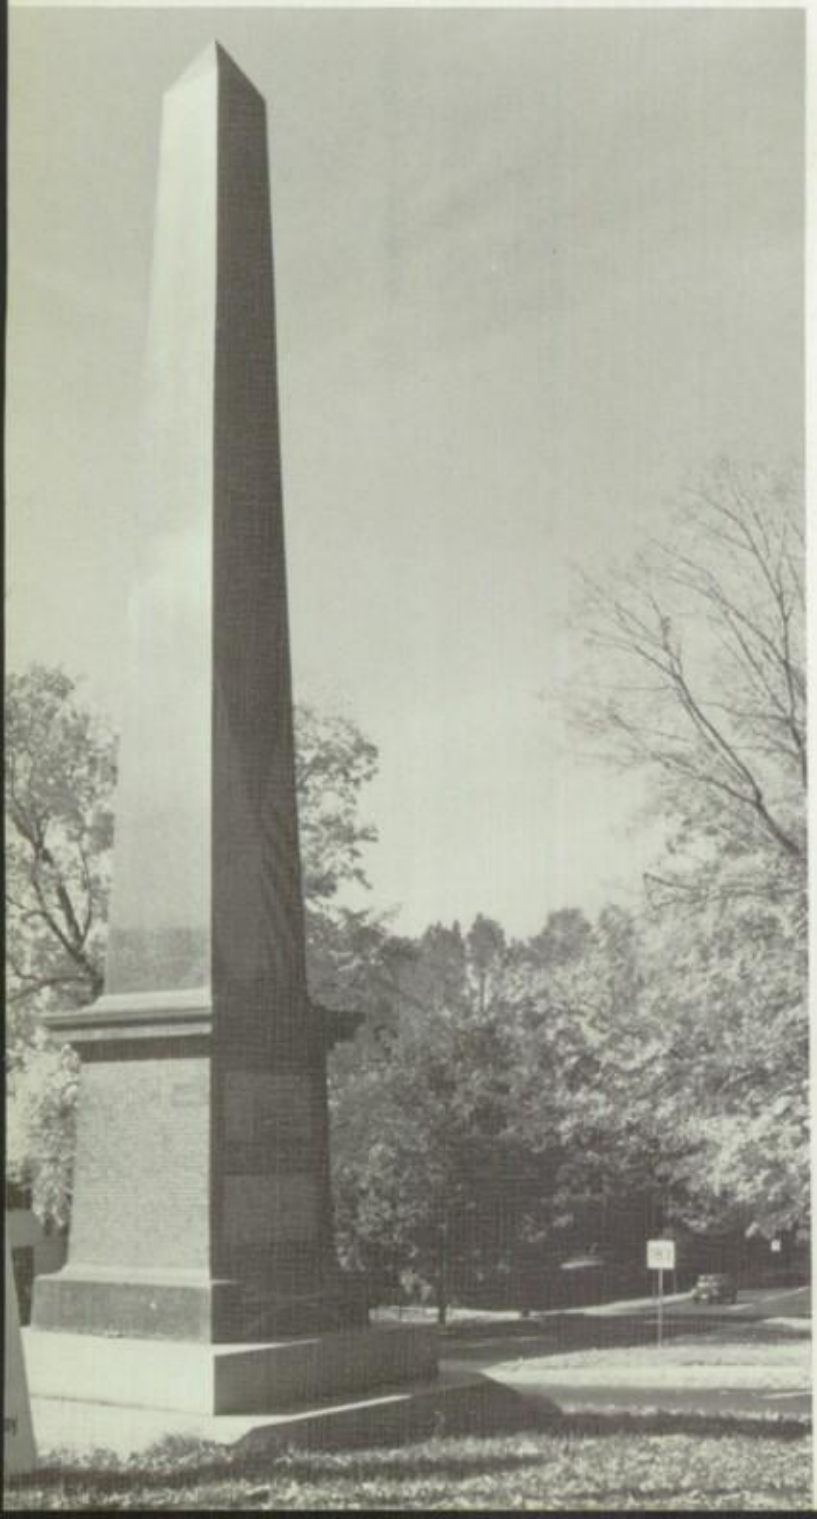
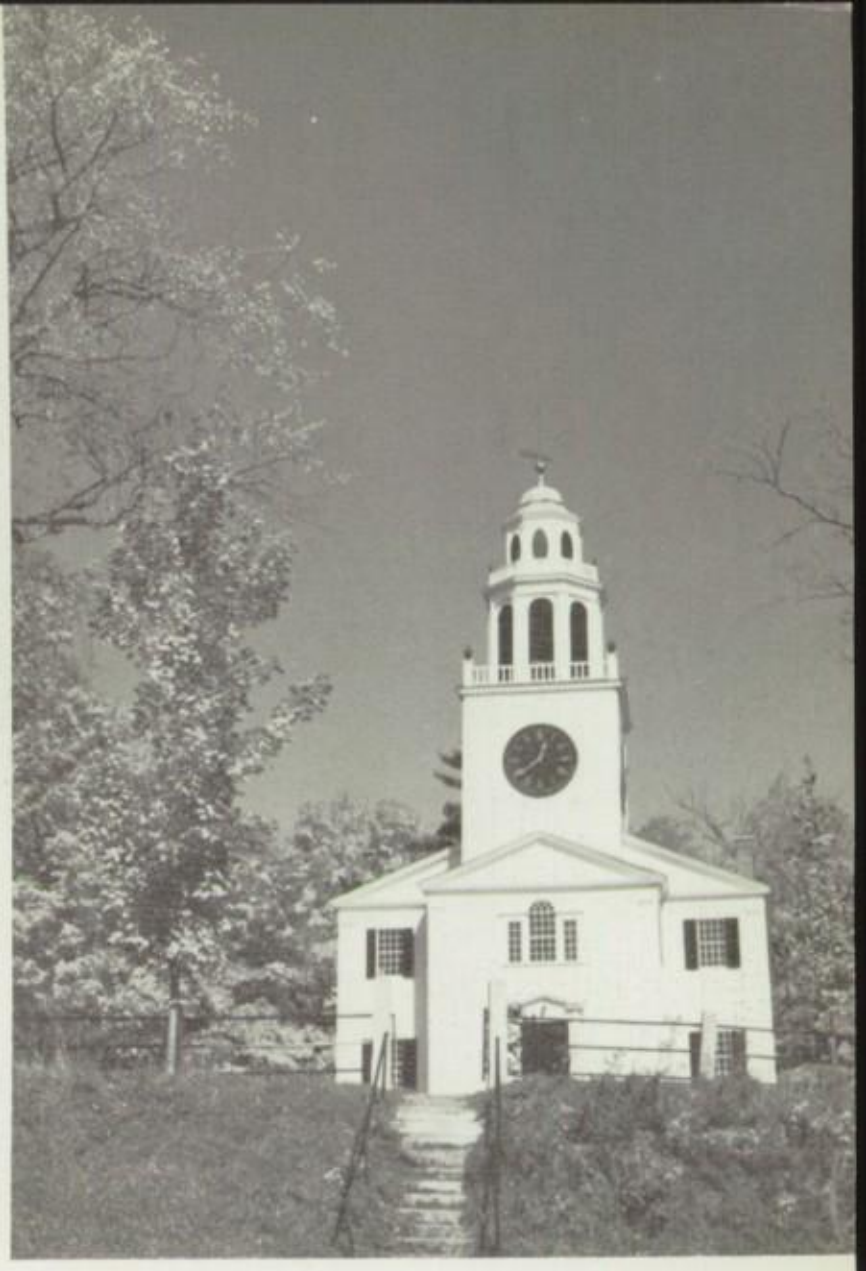
Lenox

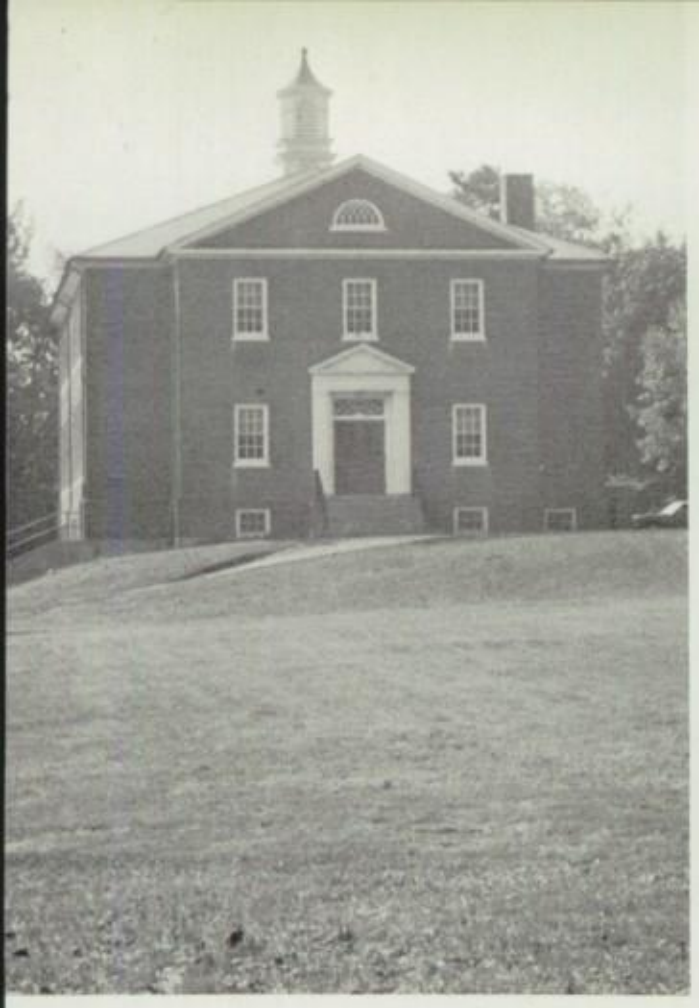


To the people who live here, Lenox means more than population, taxes, and statistics. Lenox is a community of people who need each other. Though living in our town are many varied and unique individuals, we all depend on our neighbors and friends. As John Donne said, "No man is an island . . .", especially when co-operation has been and remains so basic and necessary to the town's survival.



Today seems to be the age of computer; everything is numbered and catagorized. Though human contact is at a minimum, and people are almost afraid to look others in the eye, Lenox is a closely-knit community, very personal and self-centered. It has been criticized, much as all New England towns and cities, for being cold as the winter weather to outsiders, but much of this has passed. As the tourists provide a necessary compliment to the town's economy, so every summer and fall we open our doors to the sightseers and music lovers, and every winter to the skiers. They, in turn, enjoy what we have here to offer, mainly our beautiful, quiet, and historic town.

We all know the history of Lenox, a small farming village that grew into the shire town of the county, became popular as a resort for the literary lights and the wealthy, and was radically changed by two world wars and the depression. The citizens of Lenox have always maintained a great pride in their town, coupled with the independence to strive for what is best for the town. At present, turmoil is prevalent through the growth and progress of the town.



Many people of Lenox, those whose families have been here for generations, and even "outsiders" who have come to understand what our town means to us, are concerned about the future, but in these days of uncertainty, no one can predict what is to come. Hopefully, the proud, independent spirit of Lenox will survive as a cornerstone to build on for the children of our children.

Dedication

We, the Class of 1974, dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Thomas Bosworth.

For the past 21 years, Mr. Bosworth has been working within the Lenox school system, shaping the lives of students in many ways. Being an active sports enthusiast, he made an ideal gym teacher.

As Driver Education instructor for the past 18 years, Mr. Bosworth has always been able to calm shattered nerves and hide his own trembling knees. He's the only teacher we've ever encountered who knows every student by name.

The Class of 1974 will be forever indebted to "Boz" for his guidance along the road of life and his sincere friendship.

Dr. Roland Miller

"The new superintendent" in Lenox seems to have become very involved in community life, though not only through his job. He has been seen attending numerous basketball games, singing in the "Hallelujah Chorus" at the Christmas Concert, and walking through the halls at school. At least we know he's real.

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations as you complete an important stage of your life and move on to yet another in the endless series of challenges which you shall face throughout your days. You have accomplished much by completing your high school requirements and you should be proud. This however is merely the beginning and not the end and therefore you should be ready to accept the responsibilities that you now have inherited.

Much has happened since you entered the halls of Lenox Memorial High School. We have overcome many of the difficulties that face us as a country, such as the turmoil of the Vietnam War, the mid-east crisis and the struggle for equality in race and among the sexes. These difficulties, however, are merely replaced by a series of new challenges and you must be ready to meet them.

We hope, as we pass the torch to you, that we have prepared you well for the duties that you now accept. It has been the sincere desire of your teachers and administrators to give you those experiences and to instill in you the desire to utilize the talents which have been developed here at Lenox Memorial High School.

In the days to come we will share along with you and your parents a pride in your future accomplishments and a feeling of satisfaction that we may have some small part played a significant role in your future successes.

Good luck and best wishes in all that you desire.

Sincerely,

Paul E. Perachi

Class Will

We, the Class of 1974, being of sound mind and character, and with a feeling of great relief, do hereby make this our last will and testament.

To the Faculty we leave an all-expense paid trip to the nearest sanitorium.
To the Juniors we leave McDonald's instead of the Friendly. That way they'll never have to meet Trina.
To the Sophomores we leave a prayer that their prom will be successful.
To the Freshmen we leave the hope that by the time they are Seniors, they'll have enough money to graduate.
To the Eighth grade we leave the thrill of being called Freshmen.
To the Seventh grade we leave the hope that they'll make it through the next five years.

Nancy Agar leaves her position on the cheering squad to Timmy Sullivan.
Mark Armstrong leaves Mrs. Finn, wondering who did his homework.
Sue Bailey leaves Mr. Sable a subscription to "How to Improve your Appearance."
David Barry leaves his truck to his brother, Bobby, hoping he'll have better luck.
Jean Paul Becker leaves his shift at the School Store to his brother.
Mickey Boenitz wills Billy Lahart a subscription to the "Charles Atlas Body-Building Course."
Paula Bradley wills her ability to argue to Mr. Kowler.
Paul Brazie leaves John Lewarn with a quiet art room.
Lisa Brunell wills her poetry to Mr. Mercier.
Irene Carlson leaves without a word.
Debbie Carty leaves Jodi Salvatore a pair of stilts for those tall ones in the Dale.
Timmy Casey leaves his bar stool at State Line to Bob Welch.
Bev Coons leaves a babysitting certificate to the office.
Noel Chessare leaves a book of dirty jokes to Mitchell Sack.
Eddie Curley leaves his ability to be a better guidance counselor to Mr. Turner.
Gae Daniels leaves her great enthusiasm for Shakespeare's plays to Mrs. Guest.
Keith Davidson leaves crying, because he and Jeff have to part.
Doug DeVos leaves John Lewarn alone.
Paul Duval leaves a water bed to whoever wants to use it.
Julie Fielding leaves a hearing aid to Mr. Ciliberti.
Kathy Flynn leaves her nightmares about missed deadlines, selling ads, and "creep posters" to next year's yearbook editor.
Mark Formel leaves his ability to spin-out on Sample's lawn to Timmy Chandler.
Linda Gaherty leaves her shyness to Pat Milne.
Ed Gale leaves his hands to Paul Mahoney.
John Gallagher leaves after being here just a short time.
Laurie Garrett leaves her ability to dream up weird illnesses and her favorite hospital bed to Miss Hunt.
Mike Gilligan leaves his good manners to Ed Corbett.
Jack Gilson leaves his athletic socks to Tobo.
Cindi Goetze leaves an invitation to Ricki's graduation party to Kim Sullivan.
Shirley Hainsworth leaves Vicki Almeida a safety pin and masking tape just for emergencies.
Kim Horgan leaves her quietness to her brother, Brian.
Matt Hurley leaves the office with nothing to talk about.
David Jones leaves his natural blonde hair to Claudia Face.
Cindy Jordan leaves with a wonderful future to come.
Kathy Kennedy leaves Mr. Ciliberti a glass of prune juice for a good "physic."
Jim Kirby leaves his seat at the game fest to Johnnie Omelenchuck.
Melissa Kirchner leaves to find a better life than the one she has now.
Jim Kurdzionak wills a box of animal crackers to Mr. Bowie.
Leon LeBlanc leaves his curls to Mr. Pruyne.
Nancy Leydet leaves Mr. Ciliberti an "easy curl" set.
Val Linstead leaves Mrs. Curley an alphabetical chorus list.
Joe Mancari leaves a spare tire to Gary Hutchinson.
Joe Messana wills Mrs. Guest a "fun day."
Sheree Messana leaves a "trig" prayer to Mr. Kenyon's future "trig" students.
Laurie Miller wills her accounting class to anybody who will take it.
Paula Milne leaves her ability to flirt with boys to Jeanne Marie.
Jimmy Miner leaves Colleen to walk the halls alone.
Chris Mraz leaves Mrs. Brunette a copy of the script "It Happens Every Summer", in hopes it will never happen again.
John O'Keefe leaves the trips to the reservoir to Roy Goldsmith.
Steve Omelenchuck leaves a collection of Schlitz bottle caps to Driller.
Fay Parker leaves her bust to Pam Weatherhead.
Sharon Pennell leaves her jacket to anyone who will wear it during school.
Mindy Pollack leaves school early.
Dan Raftery leaves his ability to get along with girls to his brother, Pat.
Jane Ramsay wills her ability to out-jump "Shorty" to Judy Ducharme.
Paula Reidy leaves a bottle of "Sun-in" to Joan Kirchner.
Robin Roberts leaves her artistic ability to Robbie Herrmann.
Ned Roche leaves his copy of "The Secrets of Driving While Asleep" to Doug Armstrong.
Jeff Ryan leaves Shain Bosworth the greatest hits of "Dion and the Belmonts."
Teri Salvator leaves Bobby Lahart her collection of Italian jokes to be changed to Irish jokes.
Chris Scarinzi leaves her basketball ability to Miss Mercier.
Paul Scarinzi leaves for good.
Nathan Sedgwick leaves his driving ability to Eddie Lorette.
Timmy Sheehan wills his romantic ways to Mr. Ciliberti.
Andy Snyder wills his nickname, "Hebe", to Mitchell Sack.
Ronnie Sorrell leaves by the skin of his teeth.
Russ Sorrell leaves, hoping to find a car that runs.
Ellen Tanner leaves a life size picture of Jack to Marlene Hutchinson.
Jerry Stomski leaves his ability to pick up Flippy Wonder to Robert Rough.
Wes VanAlstyne leaves his skiing ability to Mr. Svenson.
Mal Walsh leaves Birdman a bottle of "Afro-Sheen."
Dick Watson leaves his ability to get a Milne to Tobo.
Ed Williams leaves his ability at being Mrs. Finn's biggest brownie to his brother, Carl.

Class History

As little seventh graders, we came to a big, new school, most of us nervous and a little scared. In eighth grade, we knew our way around a bit better, and sort of got used to our surroundings.

Freshman year brought our first Christmas Party. Who could forget Tim Sheehan as Santa, cookies in the light sockets, mistletoe, and "Color My World"? Also that year, we rode to Springfield to see our Millionaires win the Western Massachusetts Class S basketball title.

Sophomore year, some of us traveled to Spain, we had another Christmas party, gained some new classmates, and experienced the tuba incident.

Junior Year-we had our class rings, again Tim played Santa, and finally prom time arrived. Some of us took a trip to France, we started to work on our yearbook, and began to look forward to graduation, when we would be "THE" seniors.

During the summer, our advisors, from 7th grade til the end, Mr. Brunette and Miss Ryder, were married. Some people think that our class brought them together. Anyway, we'd like to give them many thanks for all the time, work, and advice they gave to all of us.

Early senior year, we staged a hilarious donkey basketball game, in which the seniors killed the faculty. Then there was Junior Miss, Duke Carty was named the winner, and Kathy Kennedy, runner-up, did that unforgettable Edith Ann. "It Happens Every Summer," our play, was the big effort for the year. We really enjoyed those Thursday night rehearsals, and even missed them when the thing was done . . . Our yearbook was finished, and we waited for our exams to be over, then the last great week, Senior Farewell, Class Day, and the final big moment, Graduation.

Spring will chase us through the summer into fall and find us beached upon some snowy shore waiting for the spring to come again.

L'Arc en Ciel—a many colored rainbow was the backdrop for a warm, romantic spring evening. It was a time for us to remember, in all its enchantment. As Eddie Curley and Debby Carty were crowned our king and queen, I think we all realized that "We may never pass this way again."

The Drama Club, hopefully, has only just begun. It was born last year and continues trying to grow and expand in any and every possible way. Though its numbers haven't increased significantly over the past year, remaining at a fluid thirty, its group identity and purpose have firmed up and members are willing to help even if they don't receive the publicity that lead actors do.

Technical skills also continue to develop in acting, set design and construction. Encouraging is the fact that a majority of those developing these skills are in the lower grades. Time is in the Club's favor.

Quality production in both drama and comedy remain the Club's goal. Last year's efforts were the psychological drama, "Hello Out There," and the subtle moral comedy of "The Chalk Garden." This year it has been the social drama, "When the Fire Dies," and will be, in early May, a more slapstick but timely comedy called "V.T.B.U."

With hard work the members will become more adept. Meanwhile a noticeable excitement and desire are present. Supported by the student body, parents and townspeople, the Drama Club will come of age.

Yearbook Staff

The 1974 Yearbook Staff presents proudly and after many, many hours of arduous labor, the YEARBOOK. After all the deadlines we missed, the typing, selling what seemed to be thousands of ads, and Wednesday and Sunday night meetings, we're sure it was worthwhile. Very special thanks go to Mr. Max Kowler, our advisor, and Walt Steinmetz, our photographer. We definitely couldn't have done it without them.

DEBUTANTE

Senior Play

From early September to early December we rehearsed, EVERY Thursday night. "It Happens Every Summer" by David Rogers was not going to be just any Senior Play. And it wasn't. Thoroughly enjoyed by cast, crew, and audience, our play was a smash. We couldn't have done it without our directors, Mrs. "I'll give you kids just one more week." Brunette, or Laurie "Shut up back there." Garrett, and the added help of Mr. Thomas Brunette and Mr. Ronald Mercier.

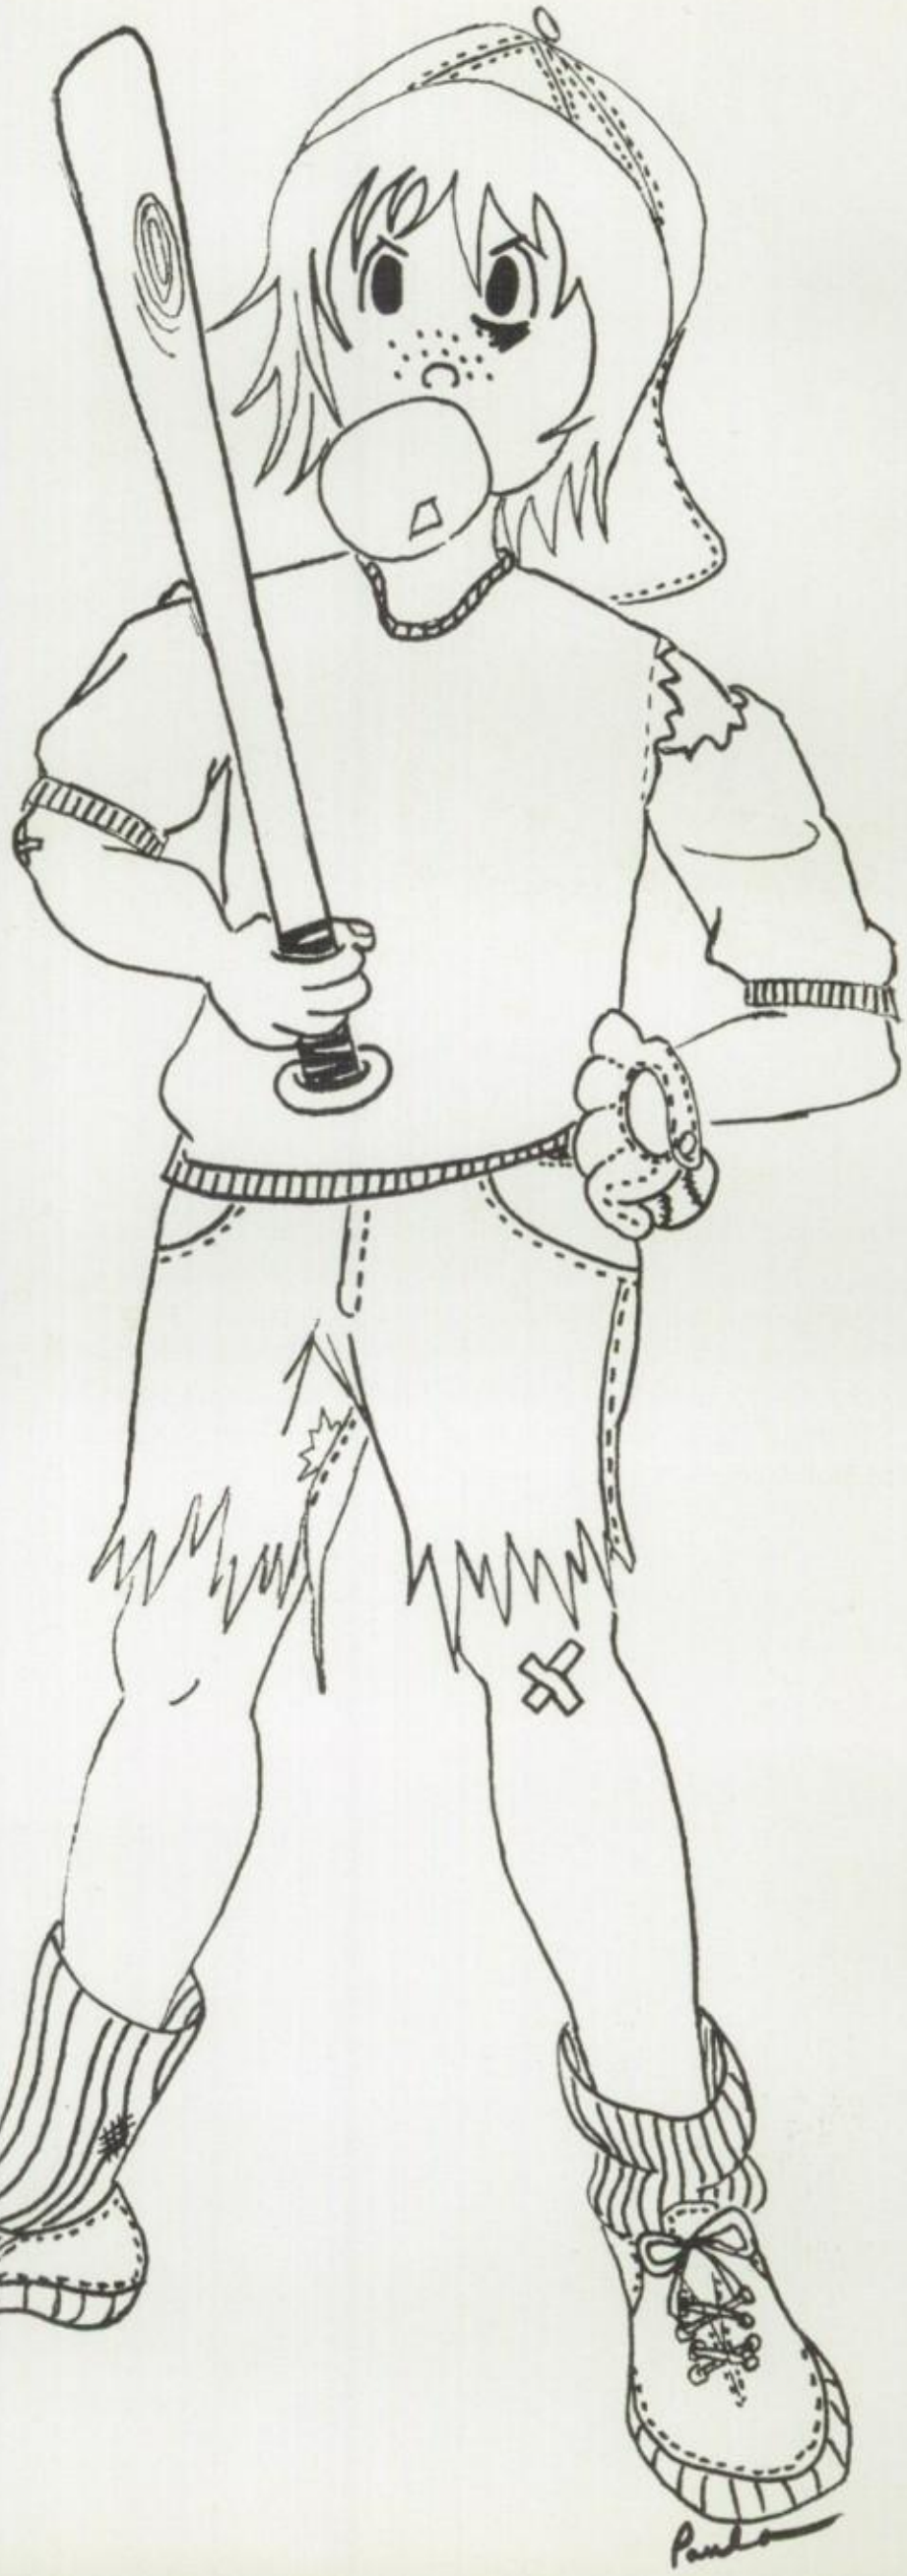
Junior Miss

On November 18th, Debbie Carty was crowned Lenox Junior Miss. Runner up was Kathy Kennedy, who also received the personality award, and Laurie Garrett received the talent award. The show went off successfully with talents that ranged from comedy and music to drama. Other contestants were Robin Roberts, Paula Bradley, Kim Horgan, Sheree Messana, and Bev Coons. After many months of hard work, it all came to an end in a few hours.

On January 25th and 26th, Debbie went to Hyannis. She returned without any awards, although everyone back home felt she should have won.

SPORTS



Baseball

The team had a fine season last year finishing with a 10-7 record for the season.

Led by the pitching of Bill Donegan and the hitting of Jack Gilson, Steve Omelenchuck, Danny Flynn, and Paul Duval the Millionares were in every game and missed the Western Mass Tournament by only one game.

Highlights of the season included an upset victory over Taconic 6-1, and an impressive last game victory over rival Lee High 10-5.

Cross Country

The Cross Country team this year, coached by Charles Spinney, showed a lot of spirit. Led by captain Bill Lahart, the team gave one hundred percent. In spite of a less than satisfactory season, the team shows promise for next year.

1ST ROW: M. Larrivee, K. Kirchner, G. Lagarce, R. Agar, D. Ryan. 2ND ROW: Coach C. Spinney, T. Decker, B. Lahart, E. Kennedy, K. Armstrong. Not present: W. Lahart.

L. to R.: Donald Miller, Joseph Messana, Bob Sullivan, Andrew Snyder, Richard Watson, David Bock.

Golf Team

The golf team had a disappointing season, and was unable to win a match, despite the fine efforts of the team's leading scorer, Dick Watson, who had 17 ½ points. It was a young team, however, and most of the players will be back again this year. Coach Pruyne has hopes for a promising season next spring.

Soccer

The Lenox High Soccer team, coached by Mr. Joseph Michalski, finished the season with a 2-13-1 record. The highlight of the season was an upset victory over Taconic High. The senior tri-captains were Paul Duval (leading scorer), Matt Hurley, and Tim Casey. The team has a young squad coming back next year, and we wish them lots of luck.

Varsity Basketball

The Millionaires, led by the starting five Jack Gilson, (Captain), Dick Watson, Mark Huber, Steve Choquette, and Bill Lahart, began the season by winning their first six games. Then, after losing their next four in a row, Coach Lafave got them back on the winning track, and they looked good for the remainder of the season.

Clutch performances by Mick Boenitz, Matt Hurley, and Rich Agar provided for the Millionaires the bench strength they needed, and proved to be a great factor in the team's success this season. Other members of the team include Paul Duval, Gary Lagarce, Kevin Armstrong, Mike Troisi, and Steve Chessare. The high point of the season came when the Millionaires were awarded a berth in the Western Massachusetts Tournament.

Girl's Basketball

The Lenox High Girl's Varsity Basketball team, led by captain Julie Fielding, (also high scorer for the team), gave a fine effort through the season. Outstanding efforts were also turned in by Jane Ramsay, Chris Scarinzi, and Judy Ducharme. The high point of the season for the JV's, (captains Jeanne Fielding and Nancy Lahart), was a 32-17 victory over Waconah Regional High School.

2nd ROW: Coach Michalski, M. Sullivan, M. Pickard, S. Ross, B. Lahart, S. Chessare, M. Natoli, M. Troisi.

The Lenox Junior Varsity, coached by Mr. Joseph Michalski, had the best record in JV history this year. By defeating the Lee JV's, they achieved something that past JV teams rarely accomplished. With strong performances turned in all around, the team has shown great potential, and should develop into a varsity team that we look forward to hearing about. Good luck!
